The Endangered Species Workgroup in the Middle Rio Grande has been engaged in developing a recovery program for the silvery minnow and other endan-gered species for many years. While I agree that integrated and jointly agreed to efforts help to limit litigation and have the promise of more cohesive, long-term so-lutions, I have been concerned with the pace of activity of this group. Consequently, I have created an executive committee to oversee the decision processes and hope-fully focus the groups efforts. The US Bureau of Reclamation has also placed an experienced and responsive leader in the district to avoid a situation similar to what happened in the Klamath - a situation you know very well. We need action from this workgroup and we need it sooner rather than later. Can you provide me assurance that you will do whatever you can to help this new executive committee and the workgroup live up to its mission Answer. Yes....
