They were both personally interested in the organization of the Richmond Stationers Association, of which body each is now an officer. So rapid and definite has been the growth of this concern since its organization in 1916, that at the present time, they employ twelve people in their store instead of four, and are now operating in an entire building with a floor space of 14,000 feet. They are the agencies for A. B. Dicks Mimeograph, and are also agents for the dictaphone. The photographs here shown, were taken under adverse conditions of lighting, and afford poor justice to the interior of the Reinach Schwartz store. The view on the opposite page pictures the store looking from the front entrance to the rear, and shows the full inside working staff. It will be noted that the store employs three women...
